

Megan Des Jardins

Fine art collections management professional with over 20 years of international experience overseeing collections and leading complex exhibitions and installations. With a B.A. in Art History and a graduate degree in Museum Studies, I bring deep subject matter expertise, strategic mindset, and meticulous attention to detail to every project.

My diverse career spans artist studios, private collections, contemporary galleries, and major institutions—giving me a unique ability to balance institutional rigor with flexibility, responsiveness, and sound ethical decision-making.

I'm passionate about producing exhibitions and projects that uphold the highest professional standards, advance institutional missions, and deliver meaningful, accessible experiences for a broad audience.

Available for project-based assignments across the Northeast.
