

GET INVOLVED

As an entirely volunteer-run organization, it is only through the generous time and efforts of dedicated members that ARCS is able to organize programming, provide resources for our members, and host international conferences.

Who can join the committees?

Any active member of ARCS: emerging, seasoned, working, retired, or independent professional in the field of collections related work

What makes a good committee volunteer?

Everyone brings something unique to the volunteer experience -- being able to effectively communicate, collaborate, and execute committee objectives are great assets to any committee

What is the volunteer time commitment?

Most committees meet once a month for an hour; projects, tasks and assignments will depend on the committee's function, but plan for 2-3 hours a month. Chairs should anticipate closer to 5hr/wk

How do I join an ARCS Committee?

Keep an eye out for the ARCS Call for Volunteers to join an ARCS Committee, once in Spring and once in Fall. Applications include a Statement of Intent, selection of committees of interest, and uploading of a current resume. Nominations will help place you on a committee!
